MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF A WEALTHY GREEK MERCHANT IN CHURCH

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 3.—Medical science was expected to determine today whether the mysterious death of Nicholas Varzakos at the altar of the St. Nicholas Greek Catholic church yesterday was murder.

Friends of the dead man told police he was struck down by a heavy brass candlestick in the hands of the priest, Rev. Kyriolos Vafiadakis during an altercation. Other witnesses denied the report that the priest struck Varzakos and held to the belief he died because he had profaned the church.

A hasty examination by police surgeons led to the belief that the man may have been the victim of heart disease.

The incident of the church in the downtown financial district, occurred during special memorial services for a Greek soldier who had died under the American flag. The priest criticized the "mismanagement of the financial affairs of the church." He added that "unable to pay its debts the church will close its doors tomorrow."

Varzakos, a wealthy fig merchant and member of the board of trustees, went forward to the altar crying he wanted to contradict the priest and they are alleged to have grappled.

NEW YORK NOT EXCITED OVER WORLD'S SERIES

NOTWITHSTANDING THE SERIES WILL BE PLAYED BY BOTH NEW YORK CLUBS

(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 3.—New York torn between two fires is talking only: Who is going to win the series—the Giants of the Yanks?

There is no distinct factional following with each club like there was back in 1906 when the Cubs and White Sox met on the ball park in the Windy City.

Even money prevailed in the little betting as the two Manhattan clubs got ready for the annual fall classics.

Professional gamblers are offering ten to nine and allowing bettors to take their choice. A lot of freak wagers are being made on individual games. Odds are one to five on that Babe Ruth will get a home run during the series.

The influx of fans for the series so apparent in a small city, is not noticeable here. Outside of talk on the street corners and an occasional word in the subway, strangers would not know anything out of the ordinary was on the card.

No enthusiasm was shown over the Yanks and Indians series due perhaps to the fact that all New York was behind their one club in the pennant race.

There was no pictures in New York or street windows of "our champions." There are no placards around bearing the pictures of McGraw and Huggins. The only way New York records such interest is at the gates where it is fully shown when the Giants and Yanks start the series on Wednesday. Forty thousand are expected at each game. The Giants have sold all their boxes and reserved seats, and the Yanks have only a few reserved seats left.

The battle broke out when Sheriff Buchanan's orders to the Klansmen not to parade were ignored, after a conference lasting an hour and a half.

The Klansmen formed a line and swung into the main street. More than 50 robed figures were in the column. As it swung into sight a shot was fired.

DEMAND FOR ANTI-STRIKE LEGISLATION WILL BE RENEWED

WHEN RAILROAD BILL IS CONSIDERED, SAID SENATOR CUMMINS

(By United Press)
Washington, Oct. 3.—Congress must either "put teeth into the Esch-Cummins railroad act or admit it is a failure and repeal it," Senator Cummins, of Iowa, declared today.

Complete reshaping of the government railroad policy is probable at the next session of congress as a result of the present threatened strike and attack on the present law, was forecast by Cummins, author of the measure.

The demand for anti-strike legislation will be renewed whether the strike now threatened occurs or not, Cummins indicated. Limitation of the interstate commerce commission control of rate making and repeal of the guaranteed rates to the roads will all be sought, Cummins said, when congress takes up the administration's $500,000,000 railroad relief bill.

While chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods met today in Chicago to determine their attitude toward a nationwide railroad strike, Cummins was prepared to put the senate interstate commerce committee to work on the railroad problem in all its aspects. He has summoned brotherhood representatives and officials of the Pennsylvania railroad.

SUCCESS OF BANK ON NORTH DAKOTA IS NOW ASSURED

THINK NORTH DAKOTA STATE OFFICIALS BECAUSE OF SALE OF BONDS IN NEW YORK

(By United Press)
Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—State officials today took the view that the success of the Bank of North Dakota is now assured following announcement in New York that North Dakota real estate series of bonds has been taken up. The battle to sell these bonds has lasted one and one half years.

Spitzer-Rorick & Company, of New York, will market the balance of the issue. Some were sold early this year and farmers of North Dakota have taken much of the issue.

The bonds will be offered for subscription at 101 and accrued interest yielding 5.75 per cent.

The North Dakota legislature authorized the issue in 1919 as a means of carrying through the nonpartisan league administration's industrial program.

Marketing of the issue will furnish the nonpartisan league with more campaign material in an effort to prevent the recall of Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor John N. Hagen. These three officials comprise the state industrial commission which has control of the state bank and other industrial projects of the administration.

TAXES ON CUT OVER LANDS ARE TOO HIGH

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Oct. 3.—Taxes on land from which lumber has been cut are too high and are endangering the state reforestation program, Rep. George Wicker said today. He has just returned from an inspection tour of the iron range and wood country by a legislative interim tax investigation committee.

Land from which timber has been cut is unproductive for fifty years and lumber men can not afford to co-operate in reforestation work with prevailing high taxes he said. Such lands consequently are sold to settlers for agricultural purposes and development is slow. Meantime the forests are dwindling. The tonnage tax on iron ore, he said, is highly successful.

REBELLION IN INDIA ASSUMES SERIOUS SIZE

(By United Press)

British Ships Crowd U. S. From the Philippines

(By United Press)
Manila, P. I.—(By Mail)—British ships are going the bulk of the carrying trade of the Philippines, according to figures issued by the bureau of customs covering the foreign trade of the islands for the first half of 1920.

Of the commerce with the United States, goods valued at $72,180,000 were shipped in foreign vessels chiefly of British registry, while the value of goods carried in American vessels was only $28,615,000. British vessels carried exports of the Philippines valued at $46,383,000, while the value of exports carried in American vessels was but $38,728,000.

Revenue figures also show that Europe and the United Kingdom are getting the import trade of the Philippines away from America. American firms do not hesitate to buy goods in England or Europe, including Germany, in preference to buying them in the United States. The foreign countries offer better credit terms and sell at lower prices.

ROCKEFELLER'S DAUGHTER AND HUSBAND PART

HAROLD McCORMICK AND WIFE OF CHICAGO, CONFIRM RUMORS OF SEPARATION

(By United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 3.—Harold F. McCormick and his wife, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have separated, it was announced at the millionaire's Lake Forest home today.

McCormick, who is head of the International Harvester company, in a statement issued to the United Press through his secretary, definitely confirmed rumors that have been afloat ever since Mrs. McCormick exiled herself in Switzerland eight years ago.

"Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are living apart," said the statement. "It is not known whether or not there will be divorce proceedings. No steps toward legal action have been taken."

The statement concluded: "Mr. McCormick has nothing more to give out." The secretary then smiled. "I do not know where Mr. McCormick is now. Perhaps I will not know all day."

Mrs. McCormick, who came back to Chicago after her exile abroad in a psychologists retreat, evaded all interviewers today. She arose early—soon after dawn, according to reports, and slipped out of the servants' entrance to her palatial home on Gold Coast. It was reported she had secreted herself in a nearby hotel but the hotel management denied all knowledge of her whereabouts as did servants and detectives guarding the grounds.

Mrs. McCormick in her last public statement made yesterday, denied that there had been a break with her husband.

"Such talk is absurd," she said. "We are very happy, indeed."

Muriel, the pretty 19-year-old daughter of the wealthy and socially prominent family, is understood to be with her mother.

What broke up the McCormick home? was the question on every lip of Chicago's 400 today. Mutual friends of the McCormicks, who would not allow their names to be used, said they believed the desires of Mr. McCormick, Mrs. McCormick and the daughter for careers of their own caused the rift.

THINK NORTH DAKOTA STATE OFFICIALS BECAUSE OF SALE OF BONDS IN NEW YORK

(By United Press)

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—State officials today took the view that the success of the Bank of North Dakota is now assured following announcement in New York that North Dakota real estate series of bonds has been taken up. The battle to sell these bonds has lasted one and one half years.

Spitzer-Rorick & Company, of New York, will market the balance of the issue. Some were sold early this year and farmers of North Dakota have taken much of the issue.

The bonds will be offered for subscription at 101 and accrued interest yielding 5.75 per cent.

The North Dakota legislature authorized the issue in 1919 as a means of carrying through the nonpartisan league administration's industrial program.

Marketing of the issue will furnish the nonpartisan league with more campaign material in an effort to prevent the recall of Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lemke and Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor John N. Haggen. These three officials comprise the state industrial commission which has control of the state bank and other industrial projects of the administration.

TAXES ON CUT OVER LANDS ARE TOO HIGH

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—Taxes on land from which lumber has been cut are too high and are endangering the state reforestation program, Rep. George Wicker said today. He has just returned from an inspection tour of the Iron range and wood country by a legislative interim tax investigation committee.

Land from which timber has been cut is unproductive for fifty years and lumber men can not afford to co-operate in reforestation work with prevailing high taxes he said. Such lands consequently are sold to settlers for agricultural purposes and development is slow. Meantime the forests are dwindling. The tonnage tax on iron ore, he said, is highly successful.

British Ships Crowd U. S. From the Philippines

(By United Press)

Manila, P. I.—(By Mail)—British ships are doing the bulk of the carrying trade of the Philippines, according to figures issued by the bureau of customs covering the foreign trade of the islands for the first half of 1920.

Of the commerce with the United States, goods valued at $72,180,000 were shipped in foreign vessels chiefly of British registry, while the value of goods carried in American vessels was only $28,615,000. British vessels carried exports of the Philippines valued at $46,383,000, while the value of exports carried in American vessels was but $38,728,000.

Revenue figures also show that Europe and the United Kingdom are getting the import trade of the Philippines away from America. American firms do not hesitate to buy goods in England or Europe, including Germany, in preference to buying them in the United States. The foreign countries offer better credit terms and sell at lower prices.

ROCKEFELLER'S DAUGHTER AND HUSBAND PART

HAROLD McCORMICK AND WIFE OF CHICAGO, CONFIRM RUMORS OF SEPARATION

(By United Press)

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Harold F. McCormick and his wife, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have separated, it was announced at the millionaire's Lake Forest home today.

McCormick, who is head of the International Harvester company, in a statement issued to the United Press through his secretary, definitely confirmed rumors that have been afloat ever since Mrs. McCormick exiled herself in Switzerland eight years ago. "Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are living apart," said the statement. "It is not known whether or not there will be divorce proceedings. No steps toward legal action have been taken."

The statement concluded: "Mr. McCormick has nothing more to give out." The secretary then smiled. "I do not know where Mr. McCormick is now. Perhaps I will not know all day."

Mrs. McCormick, who came back to Chicago after her exile abroad in a psychologists retreat, evaded all interviewers today. She arose early—soon after dawn, according to reports, and slipped out of the servants' entrance to her palatial home on Gold Coast. It was reported she had secreted herself in a nearby hotel but the hotel management denied all knowledge of her whereabouts as did servants and detectives guarding the grounds.

Mrs. McCormick in her last public statement made yesterday, denied that there had been a break with her husband.

"Such talk is absurd," she said. "We are very happy, indeed."

Muriel, the pretty 19-year-old daughter of the wealthy and socially prominent family, is understood to be with her mother.

What broke up the McCormick home? was the question on every lip of Chicago's 400 today. Mutual friends of the McCormicks, who would not allow their names to be used, said they believed the desires of Mr. McCormick, Mrs. McCormick and the daughter for careers of their own caused the rift.

(By United Press.)

The campaign assisted by the newspapers is materially reducing unemployment, it was said.

Governor Preus believes that similar efforts will help the unemployment in other cities. Such campaigns are anticipated on recommendation of the national unemployment congress, he said.

LUTHERANS TO MEET IN ST. CLOUD

Brainerd District of Lutheran Minnesota Conference to be Held Wednesday, Oct. 5

START CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

To Increase Endowment Funds of Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter by $200,000

Lay and clerical delegates from all of the 24 churches of the Brainerd district of the Lutheran Minnesota Conference will meet in the Lutheran church of St. Cloud, Wednesday, Oct. 5th at 1:00 p. m. to organize the district for a campaign for funds that will be carried on in all the 349 churches of the conference during the two weeks following October 30. Rev. O. E. Clauson, St. Cloud, Minn., the chairman of the campaign committee in this district will preside at the meeting, and President Gustave Andreen, of the Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., and Rev. O. J. Arthur, Mankato, both members of the central campaign committee, will address the district representatives.

The meeting at St. Cloud this week is a part of the plans made by the central committee during the Summer months to carry out the decisions of the conference at its last annual meeting held in Stillwater, Minn., to raise sufficient funds to cover the cost of the new gymnasium now being erected at Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter, Minn., increase the endowment funds of that institution by $200,000 in order to take advantage of a conditional gift of $100,000 from General Education Board of New York, and in addition to pay the conference quota of $100,00 for the theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill. The committee agreed to merge the three funds and ask the 56,000 members of the conference to pledge a total of $500,000 payable within the year 1922.

In addition to the organization of the district the plan calls for the organization of each local church and this plan will be outlined at the coming meeting, and it is believed that during the two big weeks of the campaign, the goal set at $500,000 will be reached.

LUTHERANS TO MEET IN ST. CLOUD

Brainerd District of Lutheran Minnesota Conference to be Held Wednesday, Oct. 5

START CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

To Increase Endowment Funds of Gustavus Adolphus College at St. Peter by $200,000

Lay and clerical delegates from all of the 24 churches of the Brainerd district of the Lutheran Minnesota Conference will meet in the Lutheran church of St. Cloud, Wednesday, Oct. 5th at 1:00 p. m. to organize the district for a campaign for funds that will be carried on in all the 349 churches of the conference during the two weeks following October 30. Rev. O. E. Clauson, St. Cloud, Minn., the chairman of the campaign committee in this district will preside at the meeting, and President Gustave Andreen, of the Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., and Rev. O. J. Arthur, Mankato, both members of the central campaign committee, will address the district representatives.

The meeting at St. Cloud this week is a part of the plans made by the central committee during the summer months to carry out the decisions of the conference at its last annual meeting held in Stillwater, Minn., to raise sufficient funds to cover the cost of the new gymnasium now being erected at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., increase the endowment funds of that institution by $200,000 in order to take advantage of a conditional gift of $100,000 from General Education Board of New York, and in addition to pay the conference quota of $100,00 for the theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill. The committee agreed to merge the three funds and ask the 56,000 members of the conference to pledge a total of $500,000 payable within the year 1922.

In addition to the organization of the district the plan calls for the organization of each local church and this plan will be outlined at the coming meeting, and it is believed that during the two big weeks of the campaign, the goal set at $500,000 will be reached.

MINNESOTA FARMERS TO AVERT FAMINE

Minnesota farmers today began their fight as volunteers in America's war against famine and plague in southern Russia and Armenia.

"Famine Relief Week," proclaimed by Governor J. A. O. Preus to call the attention of the whole state to the plight of 500,000 people facing starvation in Asia Minor and the Caucasus, began today.

Practically every country elevator in the state is enlisted to help in collecting 147,000 bushels of corn and wheat as Minnesota's contribution to the Near East, according to a statement issued by J. H. Davies, state director for the Near East Relief, and N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture. Mr. Holmberg is chairman of a special agricultural committee formed to direct the grain campaign.

The Near East Relief has appealed to the grain farmers of the United States to give 5,000,000 bushels to save the lives of women and children in the famine zone. Minnesota's share has been set at 147 cars of corn and wheat. Farmers in 68 leading grain raising counties have been asked to give a few bushels apiece, turning the gift over to their local elevator when they haul in their loads for sale. Committees of farmers and newspapermen are being formed in each county to help gather the grain. Elevators will receive the gifts, store them until a carload is collected or until the campaign ends, and then ship the grain to mills where it will be turned into food under direction of the Near East Relief.

Mills will manufacture the grain into food products at less than actual cost of operation, Mr. Holmberg said today. After careful investigation, James R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, has sent Mr. Holmberg a statement saying that the methods of the relief organization guarantee that every bushel of grain donated, or its full equivalent in food, will reach the famine sufferers.

The work of gathering the gifts of grain will continue for several weeks, the state relief committee announced today. An appeal to towns and cities in Minnesota to give money and clothing for destitute refugees in the famine areas of the Caucasus, Armenia and the Holy Land will follow the grain campaign, Mr. Davies said.

Good News for Brainerd

There is great significance in the nice order we have just received for advertising Calumet Baking Powder.

This, coming at a time when merchants think business is slow and believe the outlook for the winter none too promising, really spells volume.

Any company that spends such a large amount of money employs experts who study and analyze conditions before such a campaign is launched. The agents of the company enter the field to find out what's going on and to learn whether or not the time is ripe for a big advertising campaign.

Evidently the investigators of the Calumet Baking Powder Company found conditions in our town much better than we thought they were and much more favorable.

The action of the Calumet people is certainly a great lesson to all of us. It proves there is one thing greater than business depression and that is the "go get 'em" spirit. It is that spirit that is sustaining the country today and helping make this the greatest industrial and mercantile country in the world; it is that spirit that leads the country that is laboring under business depression out of the woods.

As soon as buying is resumed and people again begin to purchase freely, the wheels of commerce will turn faster than ever before.

Such optimism as the Calumet Baking Powder Company display should certainly be an example for all of us who have something to sell.

An old preacher once said that the sounder his congregation slept the louder he talked until the very force of his voice help up their eyelids and made them listen, and just so is it possible for you—for any merchant—for any advertiser to win the attention of the public if you just talk loud enough.

CLASH THREATENED BY EUROPEAN POWERS OVER DISARMAMENT

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 3.—The approach of the date set for the disarmament conference at Washington finds the European powers which have been invited, and other who have not, busy today arranging the personnel of their delegations and preparing suggestions for agenda.

In England, the critical Irish situation and unemployment are absorbing the entire time of the Prime Minister and of members of his cabinet who are likely to represent Britain at Washington on November 10. "Conversations" are being held, however, and the Foreign office is co-operating with British naval and military experts in the preparation of armament facts and figures. It is believed here that Lloyd George will be unable to go to Washington for the start of the conference.

France is rushing its preparations. The government is discussing agenda. Premier Briand will ask a vote of confidence on October 18 for his proposed trip to the United States. The French delegation has been virtually selected, although Briand's critics insist that he will himself be unable to attend. A political crisis here is predicted for early November.

Italy is looking forward to the Washington conference with gratification, for disarmament by all the powers would be particularly pleasing to the financially "hard up" government. It is felt here that Italy is closely in touch with the views of President Harding on disarmament.

Belgium, although not formally invited as yet, has chosen a delegation of five, and is discussing the agenda of the conference.

At Geneva, the League of Nations assembly regards the Washington conference as having put it on the shelf, as far as disarmament is concerned. None of the powers can agree to anything the League may propose until they find out what is to be done at Washington. Despite this, some enthusiasts are going ahead with the League's plans.

The chief dispute at the conference, as far as Europe is concerned, promises to be between advocates of land armaments on the one hand and naval power on the other. France and Britain seem certain to come to grips over this question, France insisting she needs a large standing army, and England unwilling to relinquish the freedom of the seas maintained by the British navy.

GOLF IS A GAME FOR POLITICIANS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 3.—The ancient and royal game of golf is just about as popular in Washington as it is in England—its birthplace.

Golf is essentially the game of politicians. When President Harding takes a week-end vacation on land, he nearly always finds time for at least nine holes over one of the beautiful links surrounding the capital. Similarly King George drives and puts his way around the Sandringham course, while Premier Lloyd George is doing the same thing at London's fashionable Richmond links—the Mid-Surrey.

There is not a single member of the British cabinet who cannot play a good round. Sir Edward Carson was as much of a demon with his brassie as ever he was with quick repartee at the expense of his southern countrymen. "Jimmy" Craig, Prime minister of Ulster, can give any of the British professionals as hard a game as they like, while Lord Birkenhead, whom Britishers know better as F. E. Smith, once played round Walton Heath links in par for every hole, barring the last. He fozzled that one.

Golf in England differs hardly at all from the game here. In England they have played the game for years and years, here it is practically new. Nevertheless, the only difference an American would find in England would be with the caddies. British caddies are mere kids—but they know the game inside out. Their eyes never fall them in a hunt for your lost balls. They will criticize anybody, from the merest tyro to the most accomplished player. Duke or commoner, it is all the same to them. "Fer Gawd's sake, mister, keep yer eye on the blinkin' ball. You wouldn't 'it a bally 'aystack the way you're 'oldin' them clubs," is quite a usual bit of advice.

In Scotland the hint is the same, only it is unprintable, because only a Scotchman could do credit to the account.

But even then, I doubt if any caddie can come up to the dorkie boy on a certain links in Washington, who stands bareheaded while you bungle your putt and mumbles a prayer begging "Mister Gawd! Fo' de land's sake, put 'at ball in de hole!"

Oppose Consolidation of Suits

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 3.—North Dakota authorities are expected to oppose consolidation of the North and South Dakota damage suits instituted by the two states against Minnesota.

The attorney general of Minnesota will ask consolidation of the suits at the term of the United States supreme court reconvening in Washington today.

Damage alleged to have been done by the Mustinka river as the result of a drainage project forms the basis of the suits. The cases date back five years to the office tenure of former Attorney General Linde of North Dakota.

Hold Big Rallies.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—Revival of the enthusiasm of early days in the life of the nonpartisan league when Lynn F. Frazier was swept into the office of governor with 57,000 majority, is the aim of four big rallies scheduled this week, the first to be held here tonight.

It is the opening of the campaign which league leaders say they plan to make "short and snappy" to prevent their officials from recall and their program from emasculation at the election Oct. 28.

The second meeting for the northeastern section of the state will be in Grand Forks tomorrow. The Fargo mass meeting is set for Wednesday and the farmers of the northwest are invited to Minot the following day.

"The league has never before faced such a crisis," the state executive committee declared in issuing the call for the mass meetings.

Famine Relief Week.

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—"Minnesota must help 3,500 children from extinction by famine," Governor Preus urged today in an appeal for aid of relief workers in the Near East.

The governor designated this week as "Famine Relief Week" in Minnesota.

The Near East Relief committee is trying to feed 500,000 starving children in Armenia and the Russian Caucasians and needs Minnesota's assistance to keep 3,500 of these children from starving, the governor's appeal read.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—Appeal from the state railroad commission's decision denying the American Railway Express company an increase in intrastate rates will be heard today.

A rate boost of 13 1-3 per cent was denied last June on the ground that the company's operating report did not warrant it.

Items of depreciation and theft were held to be improperly included. Higher wages, some of which have since been cut, were also cited.

Such increases have been granted by the interstate commerce commission in other states.

Oppose Consolidation of Suits

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 3.—North Dakota authorities are expected to oppose consolidation of the North and South Dakota damage suits instituted by the two states against Minnesota.

The attorney general of Minnesota will ask consolidation of the suits at the term of the United States supreme court reconvening in Washington today.

Damage alleged to have been done by the Mustinka river as the result of a drainage project forms the basis of the suits. The cases date back five years to the office tenure of former Attorney General Linde of North Dakota.

inated the action, charging that as the result of ditches dug in Minnesota, the Mustinka overflowed doing great crop damage. Attorneys have been engaged to assist the state in the fight.

South Dakota opposes the consolidation of the cases on the ground that what might satisfy one state will not be agreeable to the other.

Hold Big Rallies.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—Revival of the enthusiasm of early days in the life of the nonpartisan league when Lynn F. Frazier was swept into the office of governor with 57,000 majority, is the aim of four big rallies scheduled this week, the first to be held here tonight.

It is the opening of the campaign which league leaders say they plan to make "short and snappy" to prevent their officials from recall and their program from emasculation at the election Oct. 28.

The second meeting for the north-eastern section of the state will be in Grand Forks tomorrow. The Fargo mass meeting is set for Wednesday and the farmers of the northwest are invited to Minot the following day.

"The league has never before faced such a crisis," the state executive committee declared in issuing the call for the mass meetings.

Famine Relief Week.

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—"Minnesota must help 3,500 children from extinction by famine," Governor Preus urged today in an appeal for aid of relief workers in the Near East.

The governor designated this week as "Famine Relief Week" in Minnesota.

The Near East Relief committee is trying to feed 500,000 starving children in Armenia and the Russian Caucasians and needs Minnesota's assistance to keep 3,500 of these children from starving, the governor's appeal read.

Express Rate Appeal Heard

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 3.—Appeal from the state railroad commission's decision denying the American Railway Express company an increase in intrastate rates will be heard today.

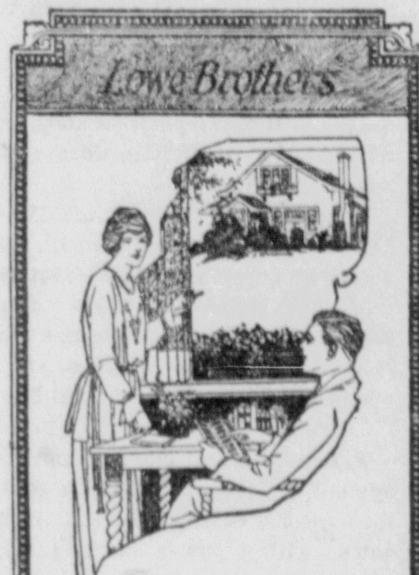

A rate boost of 13 1-3 per cent was denied last June on the ground that the company's operating report did not warrant it.

Items of depreciation and theft were held to be improperly included. Higher wages, some of which have since been cut, were also cited.

Such increases have been granted by the interstate commerce commission in other states.

You folks know how much fuel it takes you every Winter. GERMANY ADMITS RESPONSIBILITY

In their desperate efforts to hamper and annoy the administration, its opponents have resorted to falsehood. A charge which has frequently been made is that in the separate treaty Germany does not admit her responsibility for the war. This charge is untrue, as every one knows who has read the treaty. The separate treaty with Germany particularly specifies part 8 of the Versailles treaty as one of the provisions which shall apply to the United States and Germany. Part 8, thus specifically re-affirmed in the treaty with Germany, begins with the following:

"The Allied and Associated Governments affirm, and Germany accepts, the responsibility of Germany and her allies for causing all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their people have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of Germany and her allies."

The separate treaty with Germany, now before the Senate, is in brief an American treaty which stands foursquare for all American rights and American sovereignty, and which stands equally firm against entangling this country in any of the quarrels and bickerings or open warfare which may occur in any quarter of the globe, as a result of the bitterness which is the aftermath of the Versailles treaty.

PROTECT AMERICAN LABOR

An import tariff law should supplement the restriction of immigration, as there is little use in protecting the American workmen from the competition of immigrant labor if we are to leave our ports open to the free admission of the products of foreign labor. A workman who can come to this country and lower the standard of wages and living by his competition here can also lower the American standard by producing goods at home and shipping them here to be sold in competition with the product of American labor.

This is a fact frequently overlooked by Democrats who favor restriction of immigration but oppose any restriction on the importation of the products of the labor of the men they do not wish to admit as immigrants. In truth, if we are to choose between admitting foreign labor or the products of foreign labor, the former is preferable, for the foreign laborer admitted to this country will spend much of his earnings here, while the foreign laborer who produces at home and ships the product here, spends his earnings abroad.

REFORESTATION NEEDED

The members of the legislative tax commission which recently toured the northern part of the state were very much impressed with the need of reforestation in many sections. Although the commission was not appointed to consider conservation and regrowth of forests, its members have taken a most lively interest in this question, and are unanimously of the opinion that something must be done to again make fit the vast area of denuded, desolate country in northern Minnesota.

They realize more than ever before that the only thing most of these lands will grow is trees, and that the problem of planting and caring for a new growth of timber is probably one of the greatest which now confronts the people of the state. As a result of the trip of the commission, state appropriations for reforestation seem very probable.

MR. FORDNEY EXPLAINS

Representative Joseph W. Fordney, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, in a statement defending the plan of American valuation of imports as proposed in the so-called Fordney tariff bill before the Senate, explained in detail before a conference of site manufacturers' associations at Chicago, how the American valuation would allow a lower schedule of tariff taxes, produce the same revenue, and protect the honest importer. When the plan is thoroughly understood it generally meets with favor.

At a conference of Senate Democrats, a resolution was adopted expressing the hope "that the fullest measure of success attend the disarmament conference called by President Harding." This was a sensible thing to do—and it is also "good politics."

Hereafter claims of Minnesota's disabled soldiers against the government will be settled in St. Paul and Minneapolis instead of at Washington. This will greatly facilitate all soldier claims for compensation, hospitalization and vocational training.

In this era of road building, it is well to remember that while we need great trunk highways, the first essential in the road business is intelligent care of the roads which we have. Our roads are not getting that care.

The 1922 tax rate for city purposes in Minneapolis has been fixed at 53.39 mills. This is an increase of 3.67 mills over the rate this year.

Are There Any Decent Men? Cries a Trusting Woman Victim of Man's Perfidy

Helga Larson, an 18-year-old girl, whose birth place was a quiet village in the beautiful land of the midnight sun, unfolded a pitiful story in a court of domestic relation. She accused Peter Martinson, a rich and prominent man. Her story of a mock marriage was denied by Martinson. She was unable to prove her assertions as the supposed to be minister and witnesses had all mysteriously disappeared shortly after the ceremony.

Martinson flatly denied any knowledge of the girl and prepared to swear that he was not the father of her child. Like a flash, she was upon him and snatched the bible from beneath his hand. "Stop! He must not swear," she cried. "He is the father of my child, but rather than see him swear his soul away, I will be called a wanton. I withdraw my charges." "Earthbound"

"Earthbound," taken from the story of the famous author, Basil King, which will be shown at the New Park Theatre today, is described as being in many respects the most remarkable film ever produced both in theme and artistic workmanship. An entire year of constant work, during which more than thirty-seven miles of film were taken, was devoted to the making of this picture in the Goldwyn studios at Culver City, California. The story is that of the powerful influence of a woman's charms which blasts the lives of two families, culminates in murder and follows its victim even into the life beyond.

"Earthbound" made a tremendous impression at its advance showings at legitimate theatres, both in New York and Chicago, where it was hailed as the greatest forward step in the development of screen art. An all-star cast of players includes Wyndham Standing, Hahlon Hamilton, Flora Revalles, Naomi Childers, Lawson Butt, Alec B. Francis, Billie Cotton and Kate Lester.

Central Minnesota is Most Prosperous Area In U. S. Survey States

People resident in Central Minnesota are among the most favored in the United States as regards crop results and business conditions, according to no less an authority than the "Nation's Business," magazine published in New York and devoted to the world of markets and finance.

The "Nation's Business," in the months of July, August and September published maps illustrating the situation throughout the entire country as regards the results of the harvest, industrial activity and the purchasing power present. Four small sections of the United States appeared in white on the map, white indicating those regions where condition most nearly approached normal, and Central Minnesota, for an area roughly 100 miles in diameter was one of the regions held to be best. The other three sections shown to be most prosperous are a tiny district of California in the extreme southwest corner of the seacoast, a slightly larger area near Los Angeles, and a section of the map adjacent to New York City.

Then the murdered man came back from his world of shadows. Back to his wife and the woman who had invited him to sin.

Passion held him to the scenes of his transgression. Even in death he could not escape. He was earthbound.

How far away are the dead? Is the spirit held to earth by its desires?

Is there growth and progression—even after the shadowy barrier has been closed?

Men and women everywhere, stirred by intense personal feeling, have been asking, "Does the personality change with death? How long do the old interests go on?"

Basil King brings an intimate knowledge of man and woman, of their wants and needs, to this great narrative. "Earthbound" deals with the emotional realities of men and women. It is a remarkable lifting of that veil which stands between this life and the next.

This production marks a new development in the art of telling stories through the motion picture. It is endowed with a power and human poignancy that can be found in no other form of art. No effort has been spared by the producer and the author to significance and great beauty. The make "Earthbound" a story of great year that it has taken in creation began a new era for the screen.

While the Parisienne is busily lengthening her fall skirt and the American is trying to make up her mind one way or the other, the rosy cheeked belles of Latvia are merrily promenading with their skirts dangling just below their knees, or sometimes above.

The short skirt has finally arrived in the Baltic States. As in Western Europe, the end of the great war immediately registered itself in a shortening of skirts in every Allied country, so in Eastern Europe the final advent of peace brought the short skirt.

Peace was a couple of years late in reaching this part of the world and the short skirt was correspondingly delayed. Today, however, a casual visitor joining the Sunday fashions parade might almost imagine himself back in Paris or America.

Excepting the peasants, the women of Riga dress just as would the women of any medium sized city in the midwest. That is, in summer, for in winter, Riga is as cold as deepest Russia.

To the American woman, with her handbag filled with American currency shopping in Riga would be "clever." An excellent ready-made dress may be bought for fifteen hundred rubles—about three dollars at present ex-

STOTTS is the scientific fuel because it produces nothing but heat—no smoke, no clinkers, mighty little ash and lots and lots of satisfaction!

Sold by fuel retailers everywhere.

It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

MRS. SOPHIA WALTERS . CALLED TO REWARD

Widow of P. J. Walters Had Resided in Brainerd Over 35 Years, Prominent Church Worker

WAS MEMBER OF REBEKAHS

Prominent in W. C. T. U. Affairs—Death Came from a Complication of Diseases

Mrs. Sophia Walters, age 70, widow of P. J. Walters, passed away on Sunday, death being due to a variety of complications. A favorite niece, Mrs. L. S. Budd, of St. Cloud, who had made her home with her for nine years in the past, nursed her during her last illness, when she took to her bed two weeks ago.

Mrs. Walters was born in Denmark and came to the United States when four years old. Her family first settled in Iowa, then removing to Wisconsin. It was in Iowa that she met Mr. Walters and they were married there.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Walters removed to Maryland, where they conducted a fruit farm. They emigrated to Waupaca, Wis., and lived there for some time. They came to Brainerd before the Northern Pacific railway was finished and before the "gold spike" was driven.

Their first home was built on Maple street. Later they made their home at 123 Main street.

Three years ago Mr. Walters died and she lamented his passing away. Mrs. Walters had many nieces and nephews and of these, living at or near Brainerd, are Mrs. L. S. Budd of St. Cloud and A. T. Fisher of Brainerd.

Mrs. Walters was a member of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Homestead No. 1601; of the Rebekahs, the W. C. T. U., and the First Baptist Church Aid.

She is the last of her family, and as the youngest member saw her one sister and four brothers called beyond.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home, Rev. R. E. Cody, former pastor officiating, and assisted by Rev. Arthur C. Smith, present pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Walters had a large acquaintance and her many friends mourn her being called away.

WATERWAY CONGRESS

State Conference Meets Oct. 7 to Push Lake-to-Ocean Channel Project

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—The president and state director of every county farm bureau in Minnesota will be invited to attend a conference in St. Paul on Oct. 7, called to launch an intensive campaign in 16 states in support of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence ocean waterway projects.

Trade organizations, women's clubs, civic organizations and municipalities are being asked to send delegates. The conference was called by the governor at the request of the state's Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater commission. It will take place at the state capitol the day before the opening of the national dairy show.

Similar conventions are being arranged in other states interested in bringing the Atlantic ocean 1,000 miles closer to the northwest.

Deepening of the St. Lawrence channel to permit ocean-going vessels to come into the lake ports of the northwest will cut transportation costs on export grain almost in half, the state tidewater commission believes. The commission estimates that from Lake Erie to Atlantic ports the lowest rail rate is 12 cents a bushel on grain, and that it costs 8 cents a bushel more to load that grain into ships.

The Minnesota commission estimates that the opening of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence route to ocean traffic would reduce this grain transportation cost 10 cents a bushel.

Woerner-Ingstad

The marriage of Paul E. Woerner of Jamestown, North Dakota, and Miss Florence E. Ingstad, of the same city, was celebrated on Monday morning at the First Presbyterian church manse, Rev. S. M. Kelly, pastor of the church performing the ceremony.

The groom is an old resident of the city of Brainerd, leaving here about a year ago to take up his residence in Jamestown.

The bride, who is an accomplished and talented young lady, is a graduate of the Presbyterian College at Jamestown, North Dakota. Mr. and Mrs. Woerner left on the afternoon train for the Twin Cities, where they will spend their honeymoon, before returning to take up their residence in Jamestown.

POSTOFFICE SPEED DEPENDS ON PEOPLE

If Everybody Started Mailing Letters Early in the Day it Would Reduce Night Work

FAULTY ADDRESSES RETARD

1,500,000 Letters are Mailed Every Hour of Every Day in the United States

What the every day user of the local postoffice may do to speed up his own service and that of other patrons may be taken to heart by Brainerd people too, for much of the eleven commandments as enunciated by Charles J. Moos, postmaster of St. Paul, is just as applicable to Brainerd as St. Paul, said Brainerd's postmaster, H. P. Dunn.

The importance of the postoffice functions and the volume of business transacted daily and hourly is also brought home to the every day man who takes his postoffice service as a matter of course.

Following is the St. Paul bulletin: Do you know:

That an hour's delay in mailing your letter may mean a day's delay in its delivery.

That if everybody will start mailing their letter early in the day it will reduce by one-half the night work of the postal employees.

That there are 350 letters addressed to points outside of this city each day which are returned by this office to local senders on account of faulty address.

That there are 1,000 pieces of letter mail mailed in St. Paul each day which must be given directory service on account of faulty address?

That 75 per cent of the letters mailed are posted between 5 and 8 o'clock P. M.?

That there are 1,500,000 letters mailed every hour of every day in the United States?

That the United States Postoffice handles one-third of the mail of the entire world?

That there are more than 300,000 employees in the postal service?

That the receipts of the postal service last year were approximately $500,000,000?

That 50 per cent of the business of the world depends directly or indirectly upon the postal service?

That the postoffice is operated to serve the people and anything they can do to improve it helps themselves?

Howard J. Wischaupt, Sales Manager, Knox School of Salesmanship, Opens Lecture Course

CHAMBER COMMERCE TONIGHT

"Business is Not Sick", said Mr. Wischaupt, "It is Merely Convalescent"

Howard J. Wischaupt, sales manager, Knox School of Salesmanship, Cleveland, Ohio, who opens a lecture at the Chamber of Commerce tonight, under the auspices of the Brainerd Business Men's Association, arrived in Brainerd this afternoon and conferred with his business manager, A. F. Kneubel who has been here since last week getting the course underway.

A large number of lecture course tickets have been sold. Many business firms of Brainerd have seen to it that their entire forces of clerks, will attend the lectures which run every evening from October 3 to 7 inclusive.

Pep in Business

The pep talks of Mr. Wischaupt have gained wide renown and much favorable comment. They create a better morale, a better understanding between employers, employees and the buying public. In order to get business to run "on high", to pull steadily, these three factors in every business transaction must work harmoniously. A man may handle the best line of goods in the world, but if his sales force does not put heart and soul in the selling game, then trade languishes.

The First Lecture

"My first lecture", said Mr. Wischaupt, "covers getting acquainted with the people in each town I visit."

"My first impressions of Brainerd are very good ones", he continued. "We have made surveys of 504 cities. We analyze sick business and submit the facts and figures which suggest a remedy."

WALKER

Mr. and Mrs. McMahan of Glenarry entertained at a duck dinner Monday. Covers were laid for eight.

Captain George Reynolds closed his season on the lake and dry-docked his launch, the Megawatt. He reported a very successful season.

Mrs. John Braddon, who returned Tuesday morning from Duluth, was accompanied home by her two sons, Henry and Peter Polusky, who will spend the week visiting the Braddon family.

Misses Marie and June Stauner returned to Minneapolis Saturday morning after visiting their father and sisters at this place for the past two months. They also visited their brother and sister-in-law at Brainerd on their return.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

SAMUEL GOMPERS, PRESIDENT OF THE A. F. OF L., SETS THE CAUSE AND THE CURE

By Samuel Gompers, President, American Federation of Labor

The present industrial depression is not essentially different from the cycles of financial and industrial depression which have come with some regular frequency.

GOMPERS

It is the magnitude of the present situation that makes the problem so acute. The fundamental cause is the same—faulty judgment on the part of those responsible for management.

The degree of responsibility for management that rests on the various contributing elements concerned in production varies with each industrial establishment.

Bad management means waste—unnecessarily high costs of production. This waste is cumulative and finally becomes too heavy for the productive processes to carry.

Then comes the crash!

War Production

During the war economy of production was a secondary consideration. The dislocation effected by war production was world wide. A serious strain has been placed on all the elements participating in industry.

The calamity that has resulted will serve a good purpose if it leads to earnest study and a revaluation of the basic principles upon which industry, commerce and finance are organized, together with and understanding of the human beings whose intelligence and labor power are necessary to coordinate the materials and forces of industry.

Service

If we have sufficient wealth of intelligence and human creative ability we can put our material wealth at the service of the humanity of the world. The function of wealth must be service. There are barriers of prejudice, precedent, unearned income that interfere with the use of credit and wealth for the fullest volume of production in the service of humanity.

In order to eliminate industrial and financial depressions, we must eliminate practices and institutions that prevent the ideal of service to humanity from being the controlling principle in production and human activity.

Testing Atmospheric Pollution.
Automatic records of atmospheric pollution are kept in England by means of an air filter which at the end of every fifteen minutes draws a known volume of air through a piece of fine blotting paper. The darkness of the circle of deposit left on the paper indicates the amount of suspended matter in the air.

Unkind Classification.

OPEN SHOP A SNARE SAYS ECONOMIST

By REV. JOHN A. RYAN, Professor of industrial ethics and moral philosophy, Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

The open shop movement as countenanced in the minds of those present-day leaders who advocate it, is fundamentally a lie, and opposed to the best interests of the organized worker.

The open shop idea surrounds itself with a lure of promises, but it does not come out directly and tell to what degree it will recognize the collective bargaining rights of the trade union man.

It is a snare and aimed intentionally to undermine organized labor.

Labor's Duty.
On the other hand labor must awaken to its growing sense of responsibility if it expects respect and the insurance of public confidence.

By this I mean, that labor must renounce a very late practice which has become noticeable and to some degree responsible in detracting from labor's prestige, in lessening production or minimizing it to a great extent.

Labor must get back to its former position of rendering a full day's work for a full day's pay, for such a reversal of attitude has been made very necessary, owing to the public's decline of reliance in labor's tactics.

I see but little opportunity for a cure-all for the obtaining unemployment situation save in the stimulation of business generally, which might follow if public works were engaged upon.

Rise Next Summer
The present depression will not lift until some time next summer, possibly from three to four months after the opening of spring.

Prosperity and depression have the same relation in their progress to a rolling snowball.

If one industry shuts down others follow suit. If one or a group of businesses pick up, the effect is felt all along the line.

To me it seems as though the government should take the first step out of the rut, not only the national but the state governments as well, by promoting needed public improvements, and thereby encouraging a desire to industry.

What is needed most is to rid business of its timidity. Someone must take the lead.

MADE A STUDY OF GERMANY

United States Frequently Represented by Diplomats Who Do Not Know Language of Country to Which They Are Accredited.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—At this moment of writing it seems possible that Ellis Loring Dresel is to be appointed American ambassador to Germany. In one capacity or another Mr. Dresel has been in touch with German affairs for some time, and has made a particular study of political and economic conditions in that country.

Whether or not eventually the appointment is to go to Mr. Dresel, it is certain that it is to be given to a man who, like him, has a thorough understanding of conditions in the land with which the United States recently was at war.

Washington, not at all strangely, seems to be more interested in the subject of the next German ambassador to the United States than it is in the appointment to Germany in our own behalf. It is said that Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, who was sent home by the American government, has told his home government that its next representative in the United States should be able to speak the English language fluently, to understand all the shades of its meaning and presumably to have also an understanding of what we loosely call Americanisms. The United States has had ambassadors to Germany who knew nothing of the language of that land.

Our Ambassadors Not Linguists.

The government of the United States never has been insistent that its ambassadors to foreign countries should know the tongue of the lands to which they were accredited. It is, of course, hardly possible for Uncle Sam to find an American qualified for the post of ambassador to Japan who speaks the language of the mikado. There are, of course, Americans who know the Japanese tongue, but inasmuch as the man who must be appointed to any high ambassadorial position must be a rich man, because no American ambassador can live on the niggardly salary which is paid him, it is virtually impossible to press an oriental scholar into the service for work in Japan. Scholars generally are poor in purse.

It always has seemed, however, as if the United States government, although restricted in its appointments to rich men, could find qualified ones who can speak the European languages. We have had ambassadors to Italy who did not know what "yes" and "no" were in the Italian tongue, and the same thing has been true of some of our ambassadors to France and Germany.

The Japanese and Chinese have one thing in common. When they come to the United States, ignorant of its language, they instantly start to learn it, and they allow no obstacles to block their acquiring course.

Not long ago I was a guest at a dinner given by the Japanese official accredited to this country. I sat next to a newly arrived official of the Eastern government who spoke only a little English. During the course of the evening he found that I was interested in his attempts to get hold of the American tongue, and after asking if he might, he began to ask some questions.

Japanese "Want to Know."

First he wanted to know what "water wagon" meant. He meant the kind of water wagon on which some men used to climb on January 1 of each year, but on which Americans now are supposed to be riding, although a good many of them are not.

When the Japanese official found out what it meant in its American slang significance, he laughed almost immoderately, and intimated in broken English that it was clever.

Once on a time I lived in a boarding house to which a young Chinese man was sent by his embassy to live while he was trying to acquire the English language. He did not know one word of our tongue. One day after dinner, finding that I was good-naturedly inclined, he took me by the arm and led me upstairs to his room. He was soon to change from oriental into American garb. He took his various articles of American wearing apparel out of his closet one after the other, while upon the table lay a phrase book with Japanese and English equivalents on the same lines.

It was my duty, and pleasure, too, to repeat one after another, "overcoat," "sack coat," "cutaway," "evening clothes," "dinner jacket," "trousers," and so on through the whole wardrobe.

The next morning the young Chinese student was down at the breakfast table ready to give the name of every article of wearing apparel in the American wardrobe, and he did it with fairly good English pronunciation.

UMPIRE MUST STICK TO DECISIONS MADE

Not Permissible for Him to Reverse Rulings.

Fans Are Wrong in Thinking That Umpire Is Bullheaded—Few Games Would Be Finished if Arguments Were Allowed.

Entirely too many fans have an idea that umpires stick to their bad decisions out of sheer bullheadedness. Those fans are almost invariably wrong. Every umpire time and again in the season understands in a flash after he has decided one way that he should have decided another, but if he reversed himself, thus encouraging kicks, protests and delays, he would lose his job in short order, writes an Eastern scribe.

Very few fans stop to consider why the rule against umpires reversing themselves on decisions of fact is almost as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, but the rule is absolutely necessary if any ball game is to be finished in less time than is required for one of those three-day cricket matches.

If umpires were to heed arguments, proofs and figures and reverse themselves, they would do nothing but hold court, and few ball games would go more than one inning, as enough disputed decisions would ordinarily arise in the first round to keep the ump engaged all the rest of the afternoon.

Long and painful experience has taught the powers that be in baseball that it is better to lay it down as a definite principle that an umpire shall stick by his decision, even when he realizes on second thought that he was wrong, than it is to encourage the players in the belief that if they talk long and loudly enough they can persuade him to reverse himself.

Personal Charm.

Unselfishness is one of the keys to personal charm, which means good manners. The woman who would be a successful woman, a woman of charm, must be an unselfish woman. She must be unselfish in her own interests. She must repress natural instincts to be bad-tempered when she is tired, to retort sharply when contradicted on her own particular subjects. She must listen when she wants to talk, and she must never for one moment be off her guard in the world.—Exchange.

Why He Loses Control.

There are two things a man cannot control. One is the weather, and the other is his wife.—Cincinnati Enquirer. He frets because he cannot control the first, and he is foolish enough to try to control the other.—Canton (O.) News.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

SAMUEL GOMPERS, PRESIDENT OF THE A. F. OF L., SETS THE CAUSE AND THE CURE

By Samuel Gompers,
President, American Federation of Labor

The present industrial depression is not essentially different from the cycles of financial and industrial depression which have come with some regular frequency.

It is the magnitude of the present situation that makes the problem so acute. The fundamental cause is the same—faulty judgment on the part of those responsible for management.

The degree of responsibility for management that rests on the various contributing elements concerned in production varies with each industrial establishment.

Bad management means waste—unnecessarily high costs of production. This waste is cumulative and finally becomes too heavy for the productive processes to carry.

Then comes the crash!

War Production
During the war economy of production was a secondary consideration. The dislocation effected by war production was world wide. A serious strain has been placed on all the elements participating in industry.

The calamity that has resulted will serve a good purpose if it leads to earnest study and a revaluation of the basic principles upon which industry, commerce and finance are organized, together with an understanding of the human beings whose intelligence and labor power are necessary to coordinate the materials and forces of industry.

America is rich in natural resources, gold, machinery, productive establishment and commercial agencies.

Service
If we have sufficient wealth of intelligence and human creative ability we can put our material wealth at the service of the humanity of the world. The function of wealth must be service. There are barriers of prejudice, precedent, unearned income that interfere with the use of credit and wealth for the fullest volume of production in the service of humanity.

In order to eliminate industrial and financial depressions, we must eliminate practices and institutions that prevent the ideal of service to humanity from being the controlling principle in production and human activity.

Testing Atmospheric Pollution.
Automatic records of atmospheric pollution are kept in England by means of an air filter which at the end of every fifteen minutes draws a known volume of air through a piece of fine blotting paper. The darkness of the circle of deposit left on the paper indicates the amount of suspended matter in the air.

Unkind Classification.
Rosamund always insists on running the games, so one day Jeannette got tired of it, and came upstairs, mad as could be, threw down her hat, and said: "I just am not going to play with her any more, for she never will let me be the mother. She always makes me be the papa or the dog."

Every umpire time and again in the season understands in a flash after he has decided one way that he should have decided another, but if he reversed himself, thus encouraging kicks, protests and delays, he would lose his job in short order, writes an Eastern scribe.

Very few fans stop to consider why the rule against umpires reversing themselves on decisions of fact is almost as unalterable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, but the rule is absolutely necessary if any ball game is to be finished in less time than is required for one of those three-day cricket matches.

If umpires were to heed arguments, proofs and figures and reverse themselves, they would do nothing but hold court, and few ball games would go more than one inning, as enough disputed decisions would ordinarily arise in the first round to keep the ump engaged all the rest of the afternoon.

Long and painful experience has taught the powers that be in baseball that it is better to lay it down as a definite principle that an umpire shall stick by his decision, even when he realizes on second thought that he was wrong, than it is to encourage the players in the belief that if they talk long and loudly enough they can persuade him to reverse himself.

Personal Charm.

Unselfishness is one of the keys to personal charm, which means good manners. The woman who would be a successful woman, a woman of charm, must be an unselfish woman. She must be unselfish in her own interests. She must repress natural instincts to be bad-tempered when she is tired, to retort sharply when contradicted on her own particular subjects. She must listen when she wants to talk, and she must never for one moment be off her guard in the world.—Exchange.

Why He Loses Control.

There are two things a man cannot control. One is the weather, and the other is his wife.—Cincinnati Enquirer. He frets because he cannot control the first, and he is foolish enough to try to control the other.—Canton (O.) News.
